And then when freedom was at stake in eighteen sixty one
Seven brothers fought, a record made.
They were Old Will's Great great grandson's
Augustus, James and George, to be sure,
Jasper, Alonso, Almon and Burton Cure.
And from the Revolution down to the late World war
The Cures have taken an active part
And won their battle scars.

They pioneered the country. They fought on land and sea
And many a deed of valor done to succor you and me.
A fighting record, clean and pure
Handed down by that old William Cure.
Now, we the decendants of that clan
Should bow in honor to that brave man.

ESTELLA (CURE) ELLIOTT,

Republic, Kansas.

In honor of her brave relatives. 1935.
